Shamrock

Shamrock In Symbol

The first Sacred Heart students in the long ago found the shamrock to be a fitting symbol in which to enshrine their ideals of faith in Christian education and later of athletic prowess. They cast an aureole of school spirit about their symbol and passed it down—class by class—until today the shamrock with all its brightness has become a precious heritage.

However, any symbol in order to retain its true purpose and fresh vitality has to be re-interpreted from time to time lest its real meaning fade into mystery. Because of this, the 1959 SHAMROCK has rediscovered its own symbolism.

To a guy with the coolest "52" with the hottest "58" Bill Esper "61"

Shamrock In Administration

Many of the early settlers of Dearborn were of Irish descent and quite naturally, then, they turned to St. Patrick to guide them in their first venture of school administration. Certainly, they recalled, he was a teacher worthy of any classroom. They remembered his debates with the pagan chiefs and the legends encircling them. One story very dear to them was that of the Shamrock. When the angered pagans demanded of him to prove that the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit are Three Persons, yet one in essence, the sturdy missionary was, at first, nonplussed. His eyes lighted upon a shamrock growing nearby. He picked a leaf, demanding of his opponents whether or not he held up one leaf or three leaves. If one leaf, then why three lopes of equal size? If three leaves, then why only one stem? His accusers were silenced, for they could not explain. And if you cannot explain so simple a mystery as the shamrock, how can you learn to understand one so profound as the Holy Trinity?

Since the shamrock had become for them a symbol of their Catholic faith, could not their faith in Catholic education be included in it?

Their decision resulted in the students incorporating the shamrock into their school symbolism. All Dearborn, today, recognizes the shamrock as belonging to Sacred Heart School.

Shamrock In The Student Body

The life of the student himself, that of his generation in his environment, and that of his brothers and sisters world-wide—all integrated in Christ Jesus make up the symbolism of the three-fold leaf of the shamrock in Sacred Heart's student body. As the students grow like their Divine teacher in wisdom, age, and grace, they see more clearly than before just what their responsibility is toward God, toward themselves, and toward each of their neighbors. They see more clearly than before their position in the Mystical Body of Christ and the consequent obligations of this position. They see the necessity of advancing in knowledge, in justice, and in charity so that they may be worthy to be integrated into the work of their Head, Christ Jesus. This spirit of unity, this spirit of each working differently and together to produce a common product—a totally formed Christian who realizes fully that he is a member of the Mystical Body of Christ—is the meaning of the Shamrock as a symbol in the student body.

Shamrock In Activities

The Shamrock finds itself growing in the midst of every scholastic, athletic, and social gathering. School announcements, displays and exhibits, book covers, athletic teams and trophies, school sweaters and school dances, newspaper, radio and TV announcements—all are sealed with the school's stamp of approval, the Shamrock. Its symbolic green always gives a freshness, a perennial hope of success to every undertaking.

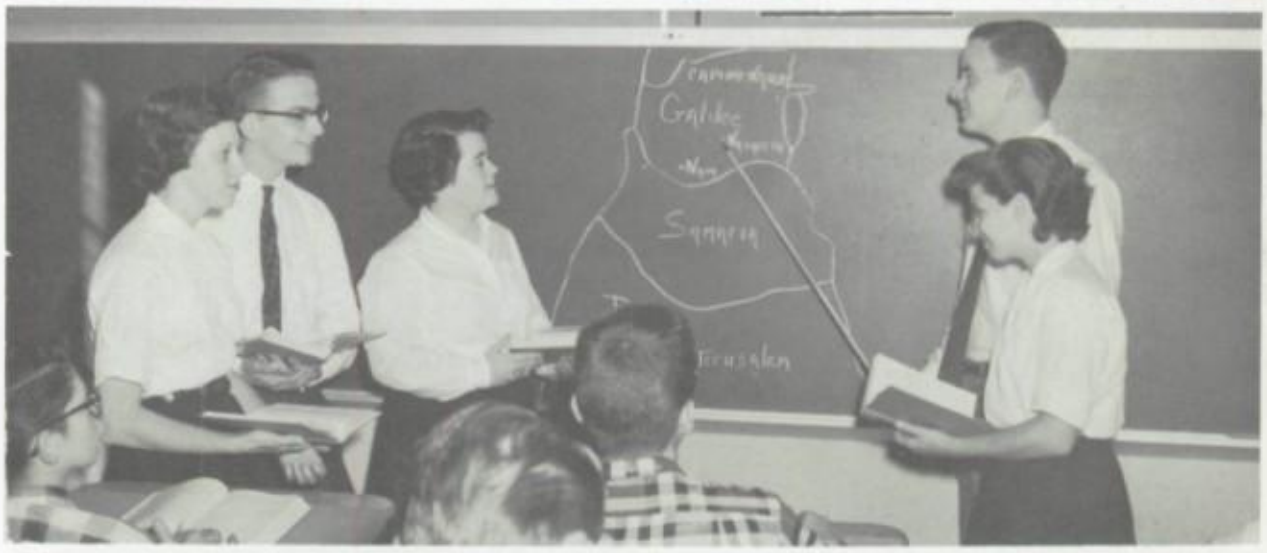
Monsignor Hardy counsels seniors outside of class as well as in the regular religion periods. With him are Thomas Myzkowski, Charles Hartman, and Thomas Murphy.

Robert McKinney, Gary Assenmacher, Robert Montgomery, Paul Bertin, and Alphonsus Helner exchange ideas on how to strengthen Christian living in school life.

"Oh it's fun to get up in the morning," says Father Cronin as he distributes the six o'clock Altar Boy appointments for January to Ed Roose, Carl Freiwald, Raymond Stefanac, William Fader, and Michael Adamson.

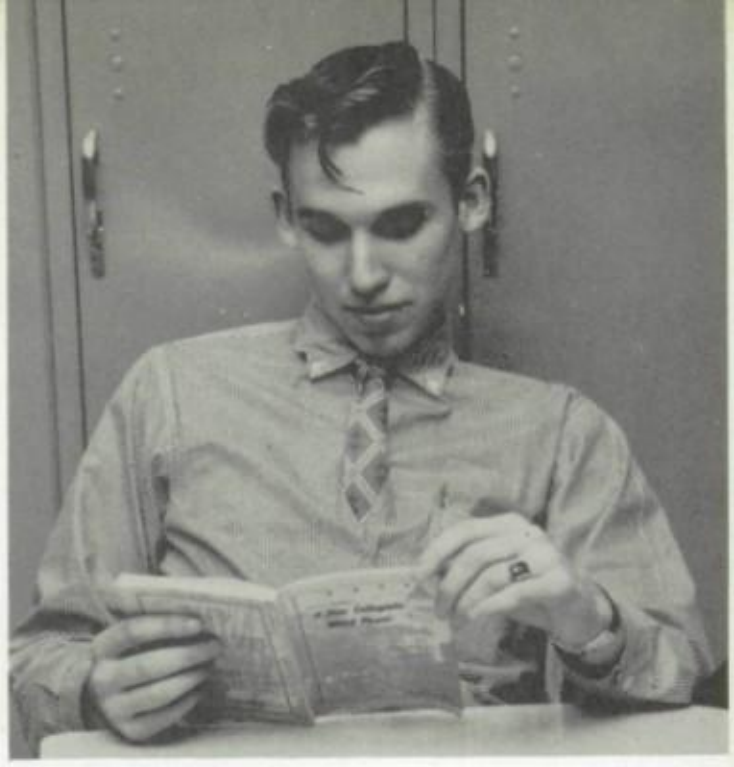
Marie Martin, James Studinski, Ilene Tobin, Richard Weldon, and Nancy Brown report to their classmates their findings on the journeys of Christ during His public life.



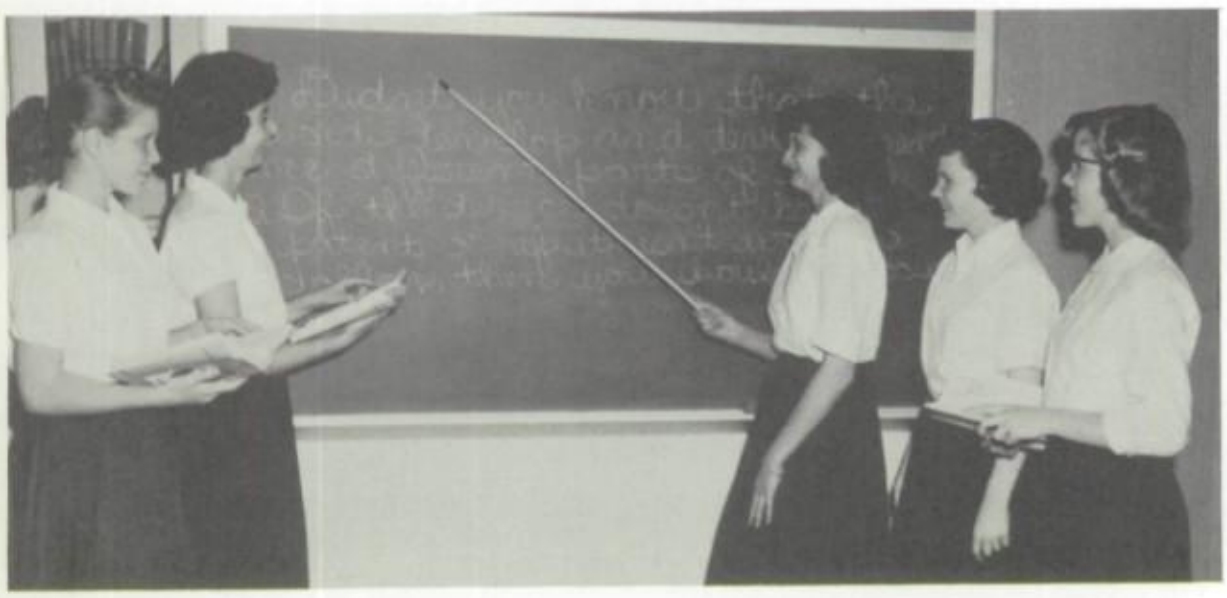
Juniors study the well-known and excellent pamphlet of Father Parsch's on the Holy Mass.

Sodality officers, Kathryne Wall, Patricia Csatari, and Karen O'Neil, plan the regular Monday night Sodality meeting.

Junior English teacher, Mrs. Brady, solves a grammatical problem for Carol Snider, Dianne Bergener, Dianne Selinski, and Gail Powell.



Alphonse Helner will study his vocabulary any place. Just don't disturb him.



"There's a comma after the N," exclaims Barbara Sowa as Dava James, Kathleen Figuraski, Barbara Glaub, and Betty Sturtevant correct an English sentence.

Jean Milton, Hugh Reed, Claudia Henn, and Terrance Cady work together making a miniature Shakespearian stage.

Senior English student Mary Ann Donahue is pointing out Tolstoy's attitude toward sin in his novel, War and Peace, to Gary Milligan, Karen O'Neil, Carolyn Cyll, Patricia Fanning, Edward Wohlford, and Helen Clark.

Caught in a rare moment of intense grammar study are George Burger, Joseph Healy, Ronald Hennig, and William Mulchay.

Glenn O'Kray, Carol Gira, Kathy Kleinsmith, Sharon Henry, Richard Cassidy, Edward Prokopp, Mary Ann Santieu, Sue Van Ooteghem, and Delphine LeCoutier enjoy their Virgil.

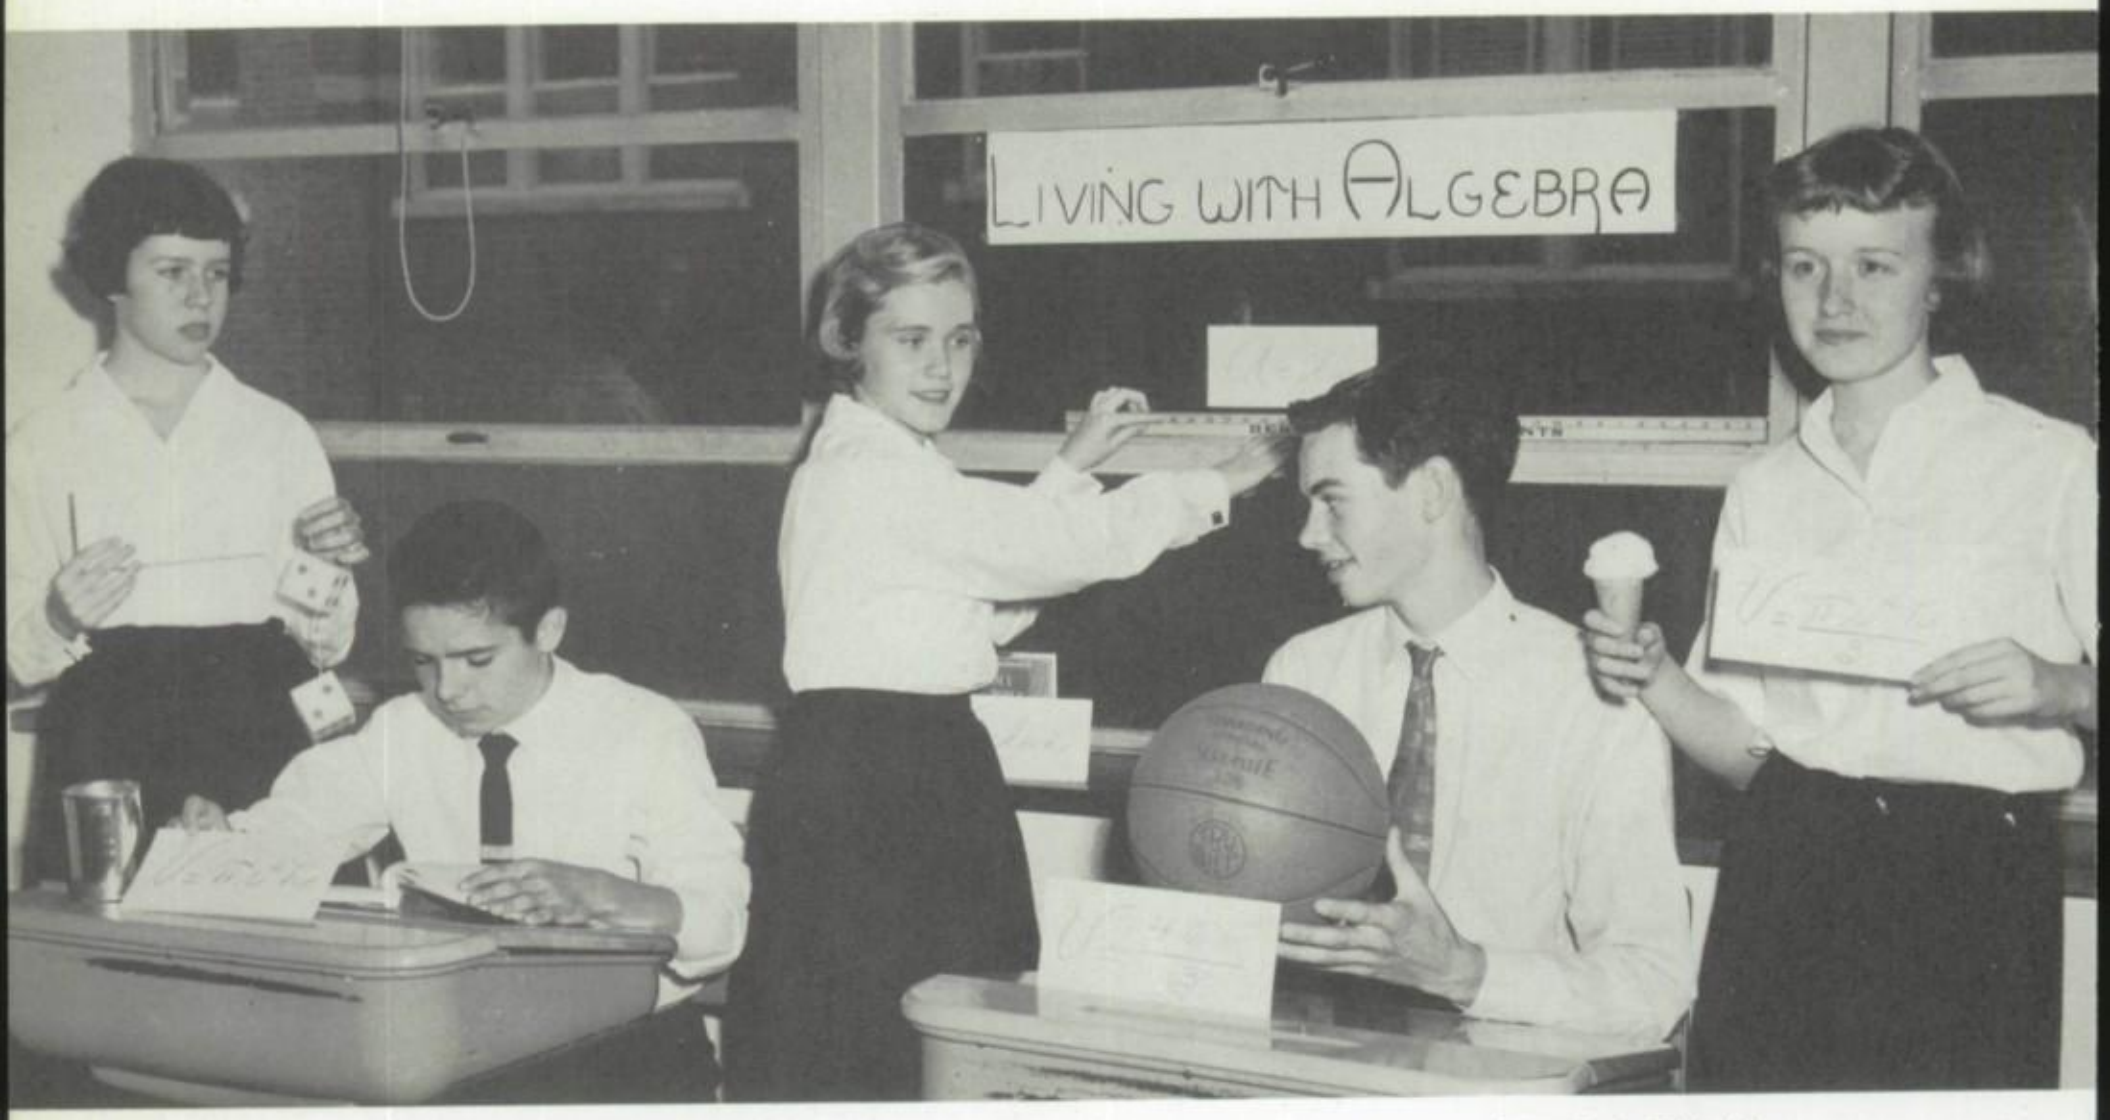
Donna Konkel and Lynn Baker are learning from Robert Jakubiec the correct pronunciation of a word in Virgil.

Learning languages can be fun. At least this is how Spanish students Catherine Cummings, Mr. W. Lozano, Spanish teacher, Margaret Pegs, Dale Briggs, and Herbert Pichler think about it.

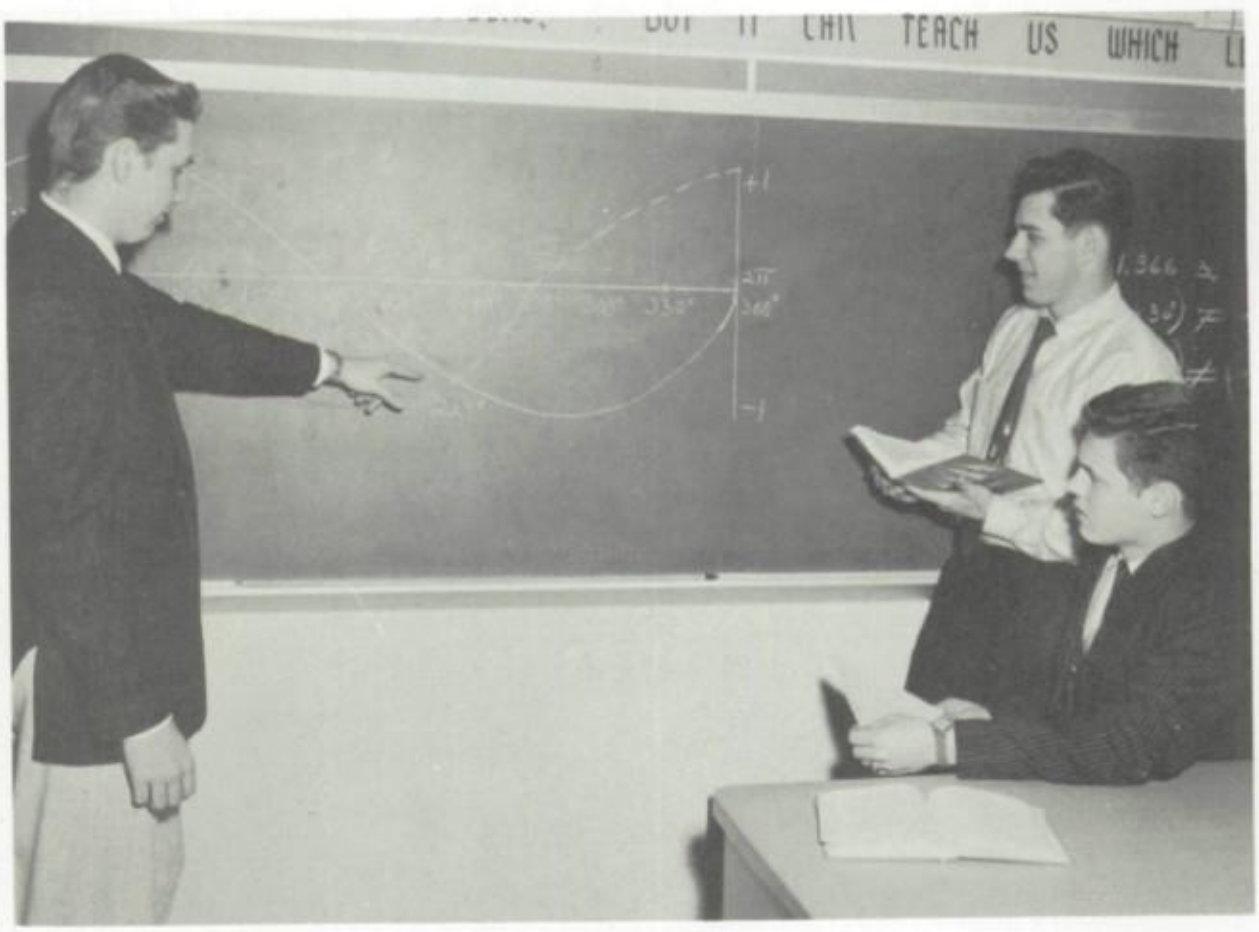
Languages mean people and customs, too.

Thomas Demers, Jan Collins, Jack Hayes and Dolores Fazekas try to do what the Romans did—speak Latin.

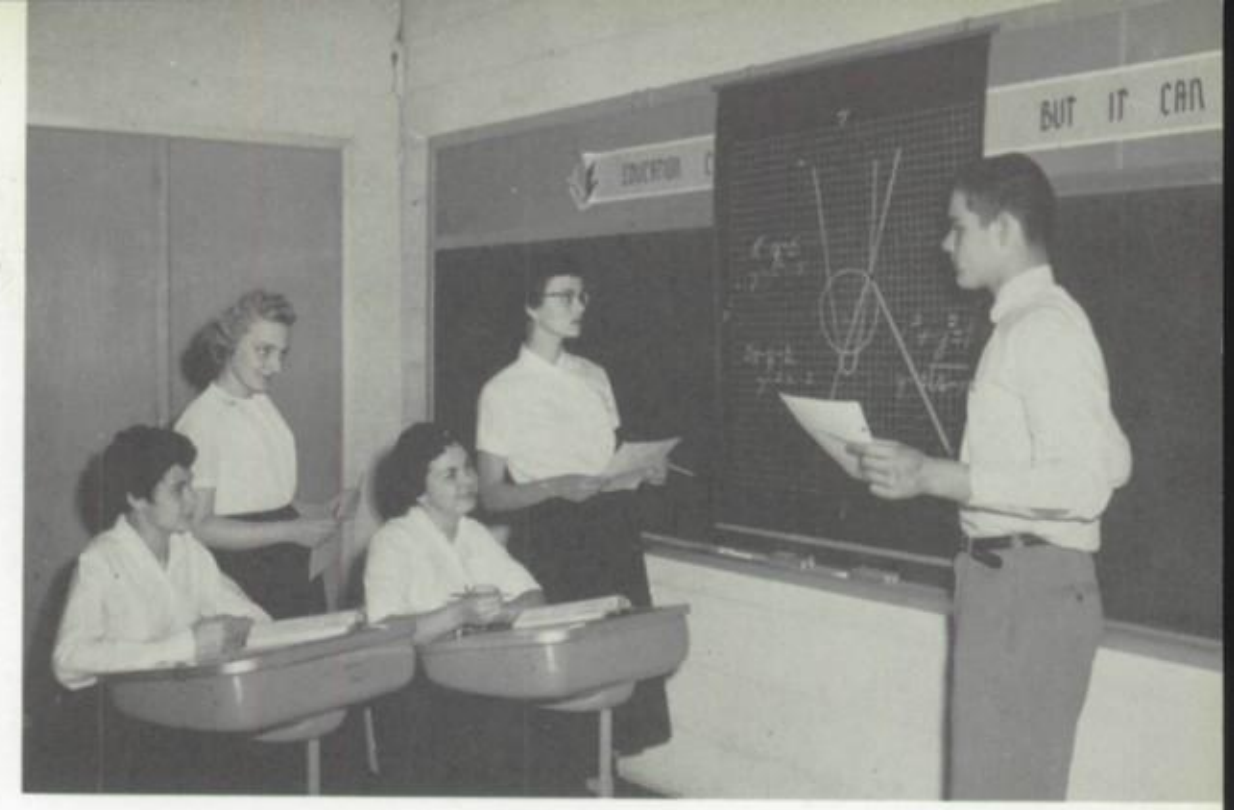
Patrick Young, Dennis Johnson, Sharon Barber, and Sandra Dever portray a scene typical of the time when Latin and Rome were on the top of the world.



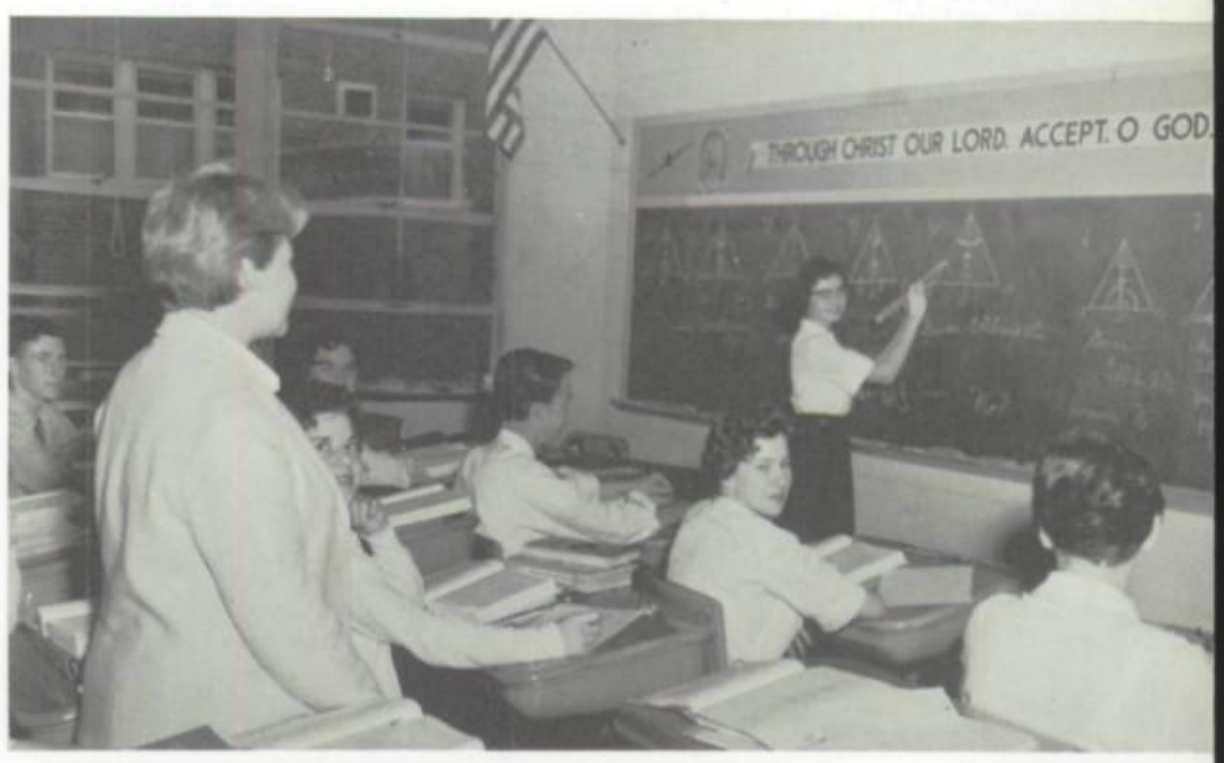
These algebra scholars, Nancy Nadorf, Thomas Gallagher, Caren Assenmacher, Carl Michalek, and Mary Falk show us that algebraic formulas have a place in every day life.



Studying the sine curve in trigonometry and learning about its many applications in the physical world are: Thomas Pilon, Michael Tumas, and Richard Fellrath.



Charles Haas is explaining the procedure in plotting a graphic equation to Dianne Wingerson, Constance Smerecki, Katheleen Haas, and Sue Walters.



"That's easy!" exclaims Kathleen Grulkowski as she works a geometry problem while Patricia McShosh looks on approvingly.

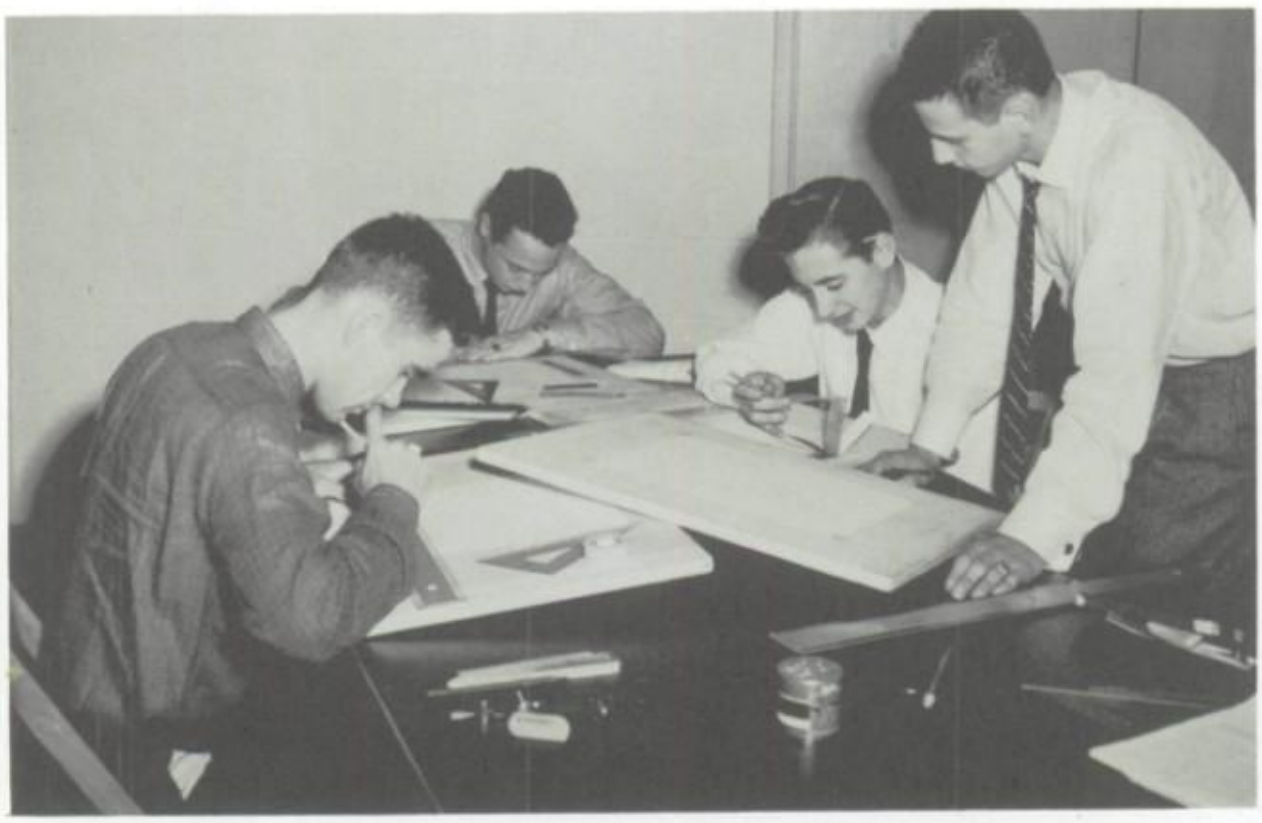
Carol Stus explains to Rita Sadjak, William Dent, and James Gerus how she bisected an angle.

Janice Campodall'orto is pointing out to geography students, Rosalind Vivani and Nancy DeCaluwe, the land structures of Africa.

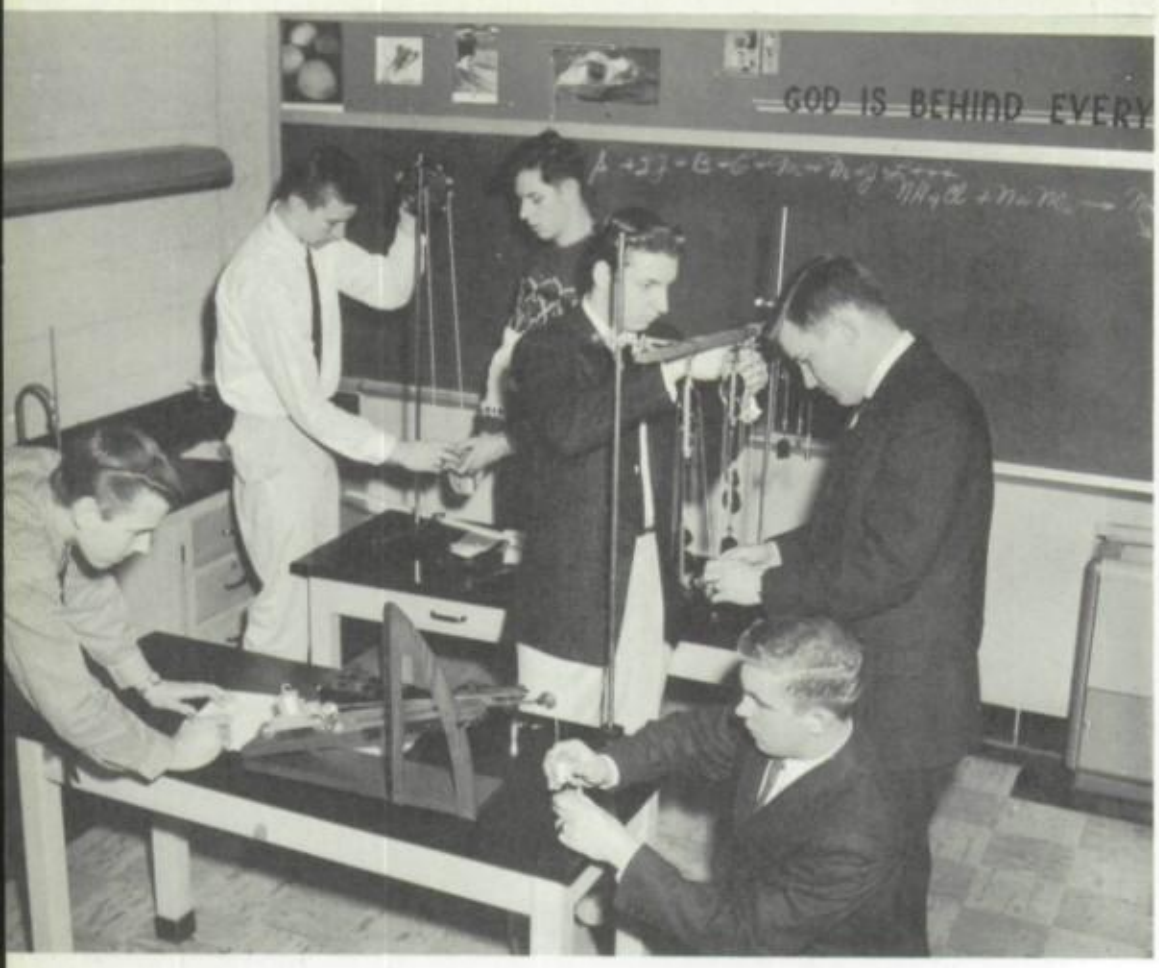
Edward Liuzzo and Annmarie DiCicco are discussing how the land formation of a country can effect its economic situation.

Linda Milewski, Margaret Robbins, Pauline Rzeppa and Joan Piersoli make use of our excellent library facilities. Diane Boleski consults librarian Mrs. Mulcahy about a history reference.

Dolores Donahue, Diane Ahern, Carol DeBoudry, Judith Bezaire, and Elaine Baska, arts and crafts students, design and make attractive book ends.

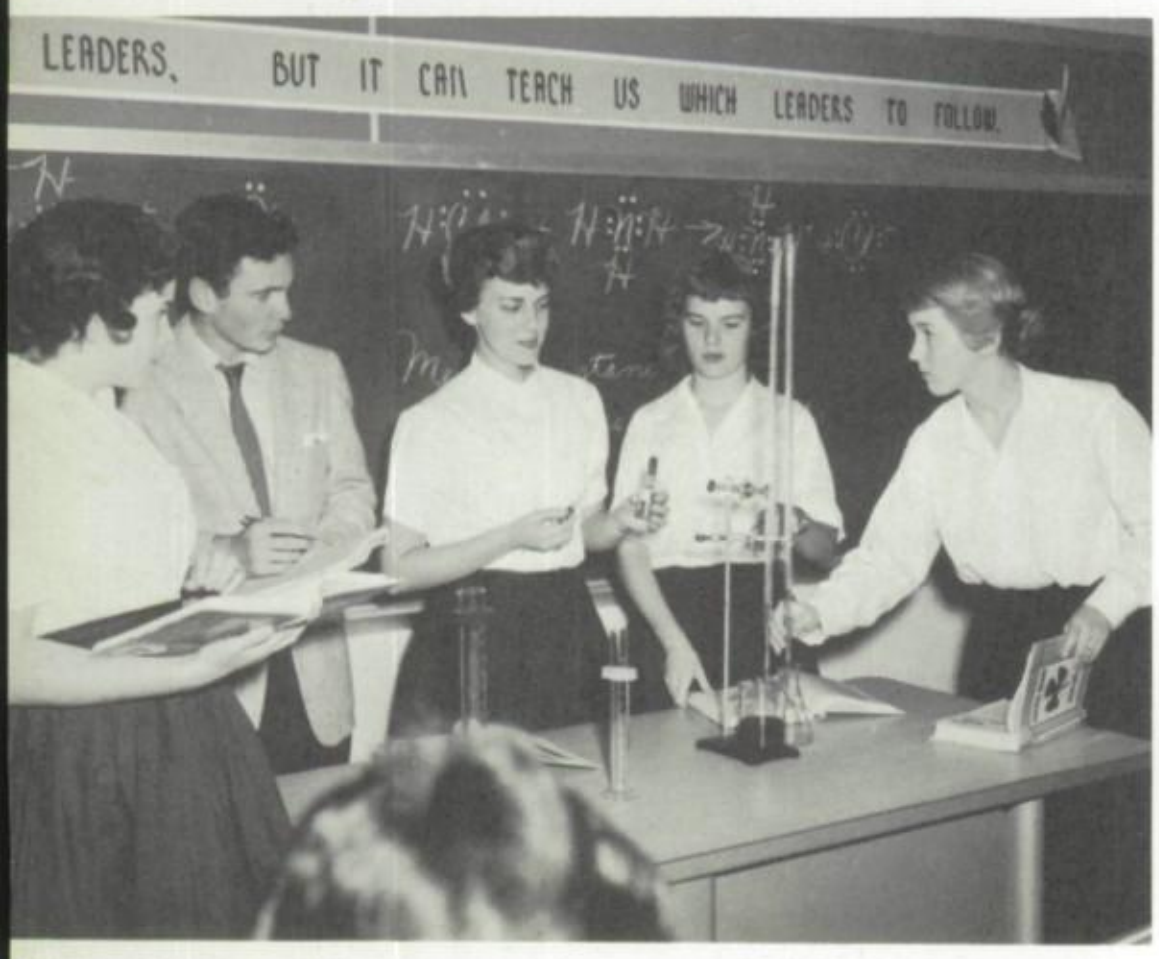


Edward Wohlford, Richard Kitchen, Edward Niemiec, and Robert McKiney work at precision in their drawings.



Experimenting with the effeciency of pulley systems, the inclined plane, and the wheel are physic students: Thomas Snider, John Cotter, Thomas Anderzak, Thomas Pilon, Gregory Malcho, and Thomas Myszkowski.

Finding the answer to a Health problem with Coach Delaney's assistance are William Connolly, Michael Csatari, Suzan Gust, and Dolores Mikwiciuk.



Marguerite Assenmacher, Patrick Carty, Judy Carson, Marilyn Pung, and Denise Stevens learn what is meant by the titration of a solution.

Leaf collections captivate and challenge Sophomore ingenuity: Sandra Boden, Judy Binell, and Linda Lillium.

Marc McEachern and Mary Gillespie prepare nitrogen, while Judity Bogan and Elizabeth Conway demonstrate the ammonia fountain.

Microscopic revelations intrigue the budding biologists: Michael Young, Matthew Mulcahy, and Georgia Terns.

Margaret Sword, Constance Labadie, Joan O'Conner, Agnes Falk, Janet Sequin, Sue Chisholm, Joan Piersoli, Nancy DeCaluwe, Carol Hamel, Janet Clem, and Carlyn Cousino take dictation in preparation for a secretary's position.

Dolores Mikiciuk discusses with her friends Kathleen Prundeau and Brenda Pierzchala, her various problems of a single day.

Donald Mouchet, Fussel Demers, Mark McEachern, Edward Luizzo, Ronald Lizak, and Edward Gantzen test their skill at shooting during their lunch hour.

Pounding our smoke signals at the end of the day are Dava James and Cathy Cummings.

William Buckley, Thomas Stringer, Dennis Sheehan, Richard Boyle and Paul Thompson gather during lunch hour to talk things over when "Hey, look guys, a photographer."

John Bagley, chairman of the Homecoming Dance, approves of posters made by Joan Abbot and Carol Currier.

This line has really got the beat.

Vera Brodie, David Toth, Darlene Unger and Joane O'Connor give out with small talk about the dance as Mary Bogan, Diane Ahern, Elaine Boska, Mary Rish, Pat McShosh and Rita Sadjak look on.

There were treasured moments for all at the Homecoming Dance.

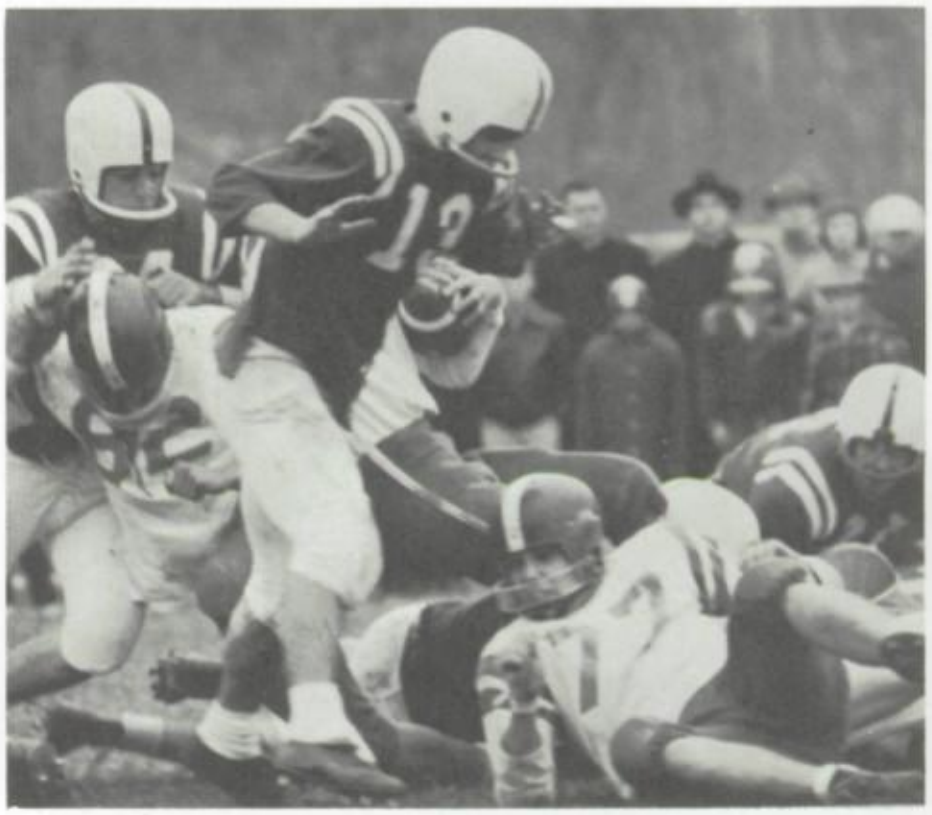
Monsignor Hardy looks happy as he leaves the field after a Shamrock victory.



"What happened, Ozzie?" yells the crowd, but Oz makes his usual excellent recovery and tackles the ball carrier.

Levi and Stawara team up for a fake play to put Xavier off balance.

"Hold that line" is the yell, and St. Mary's is stopped at the line of scrimage by a hose of Shamrock players.

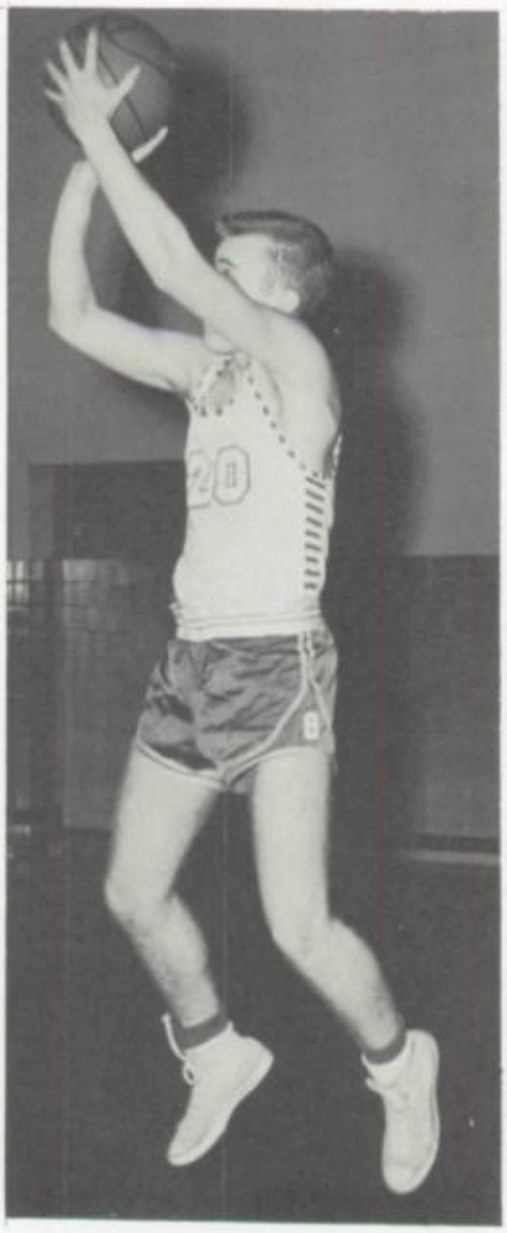
Paul Bertin cheers as the Shamrocks make a close first down, but Tom Snider continues to look worried.

The crowd watches Stawara, Assemacher, Miller, Levi, and Esper roll down Xavier in a long gain.

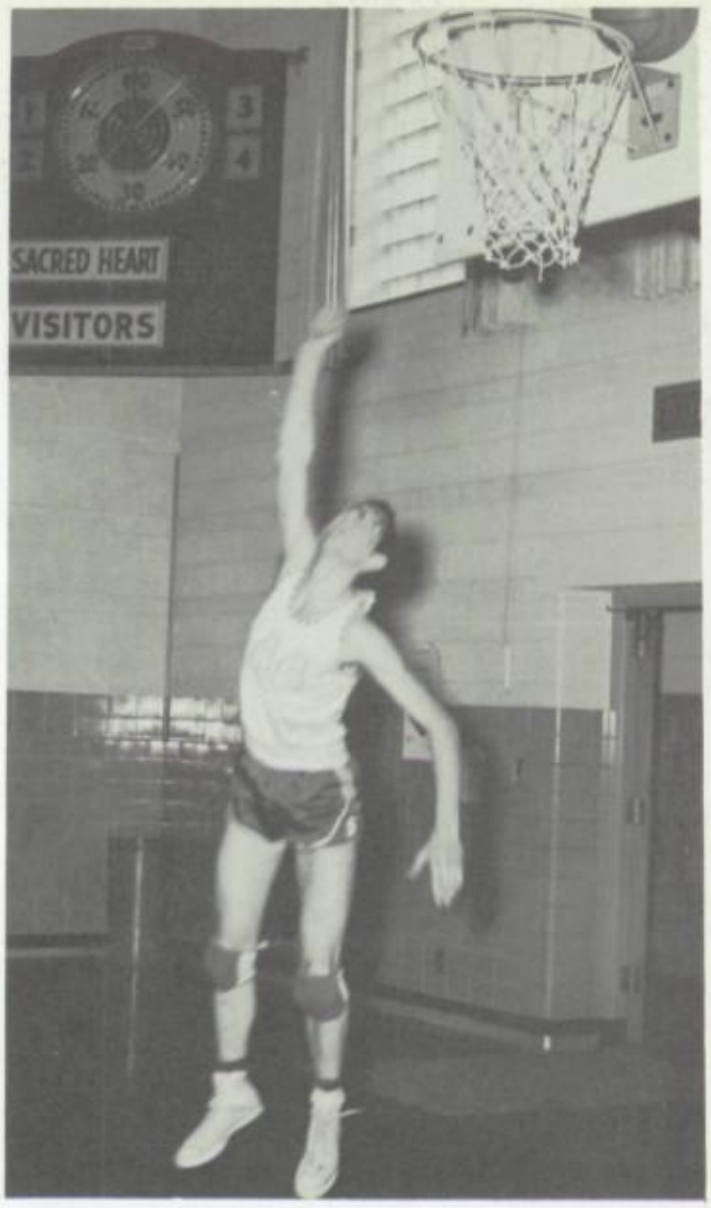
We've got the ball, but St. Mary's isn't sure as Leonard does some fancy ball handling.

"Hold that line" is the yell, and St. Mary's is stopped at the line of scrimage by a hose of Shamrock players.

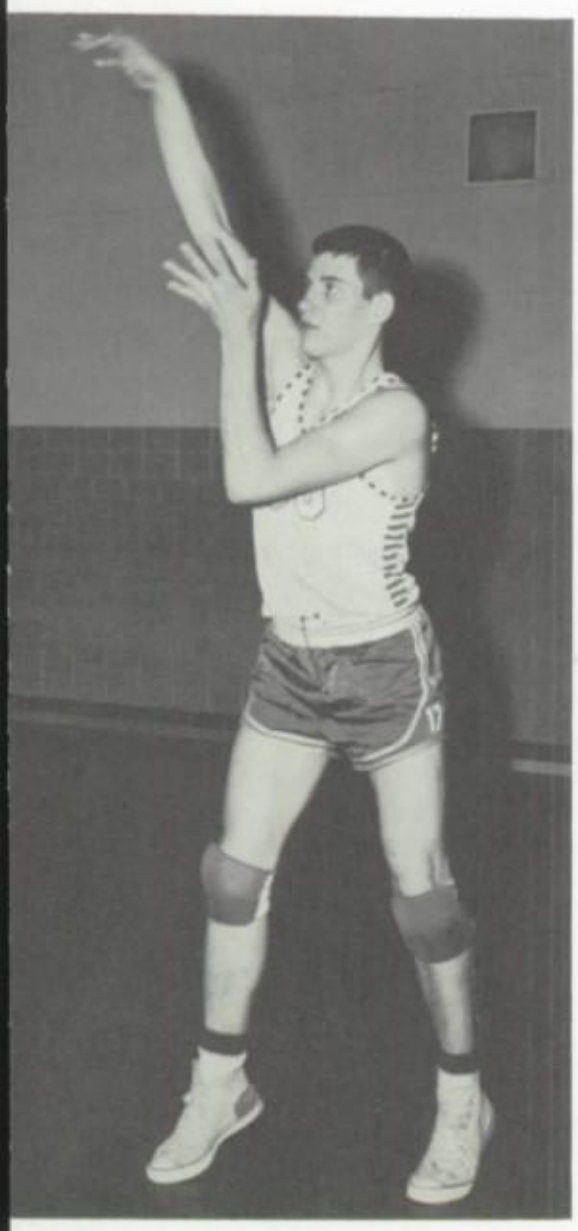
asey Lopata, our all around sportsman, demon-trates his dribbling style.



Captain Bob Montgomery takes a jump shot.



Jerry Vienne tips one in.



h puts it in for two. He is a dependable er with a steady hand and a willing mind.

John Cotter demonstrates his hook.

Athletic

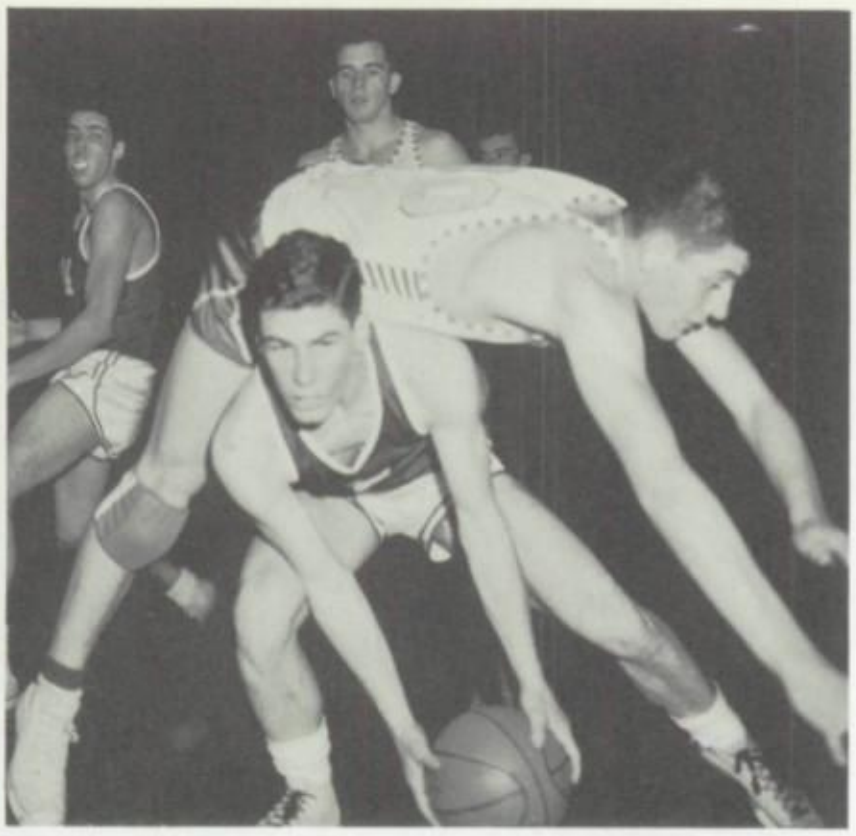
Athletic

Our cheerleaders in action: "We've got a team."

That isn't a Martian nor a Sputnik on our court. It is Tom Frank in his mask chasing the basketball down the court.

Big John Cotter dunks one as "Boots" Montgomery looks on.

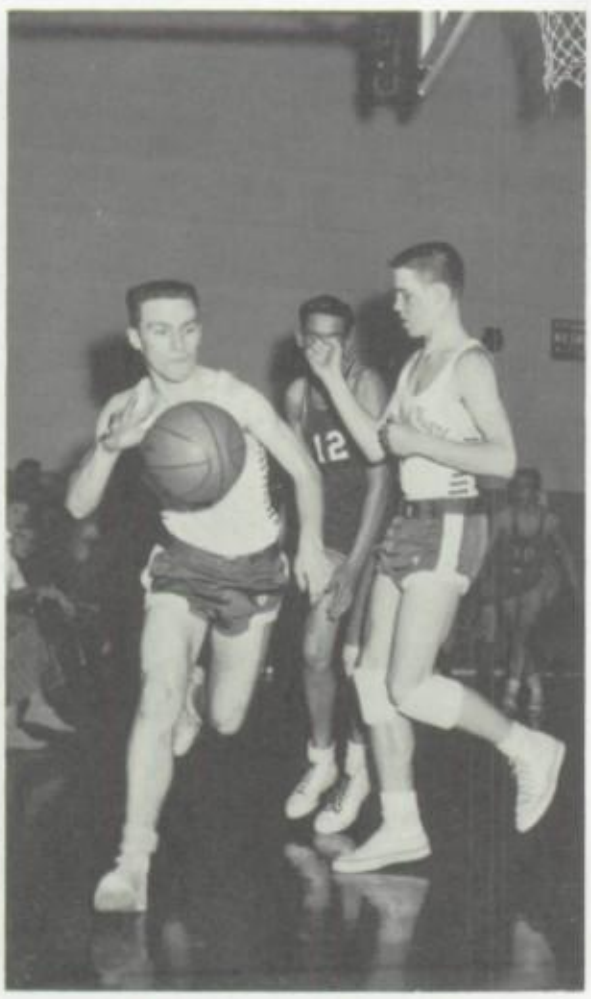
Hey! This isn't football. We don't kick the ball; we put it in the little loop.



Its a low bridge as Dave Toth misjudges an opponents dodge and picks up a foul.

Thomas Frank gets hit as he comes down.

Artie Mier moves forward to get a loose ball.



Mike Coniff grabs the ball as our winning reserves take another game.

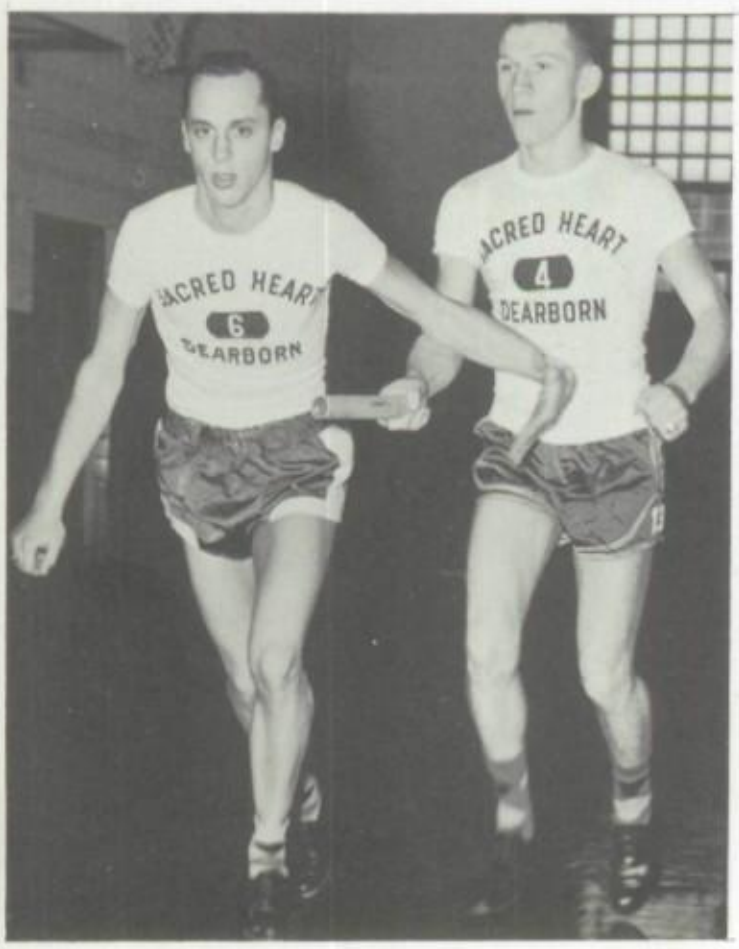
St. Thomas just can't seem to stop our Shamrock reserves as Carl Michelak puts in two.

Athletic

Joseph Ehlendt gets into action.

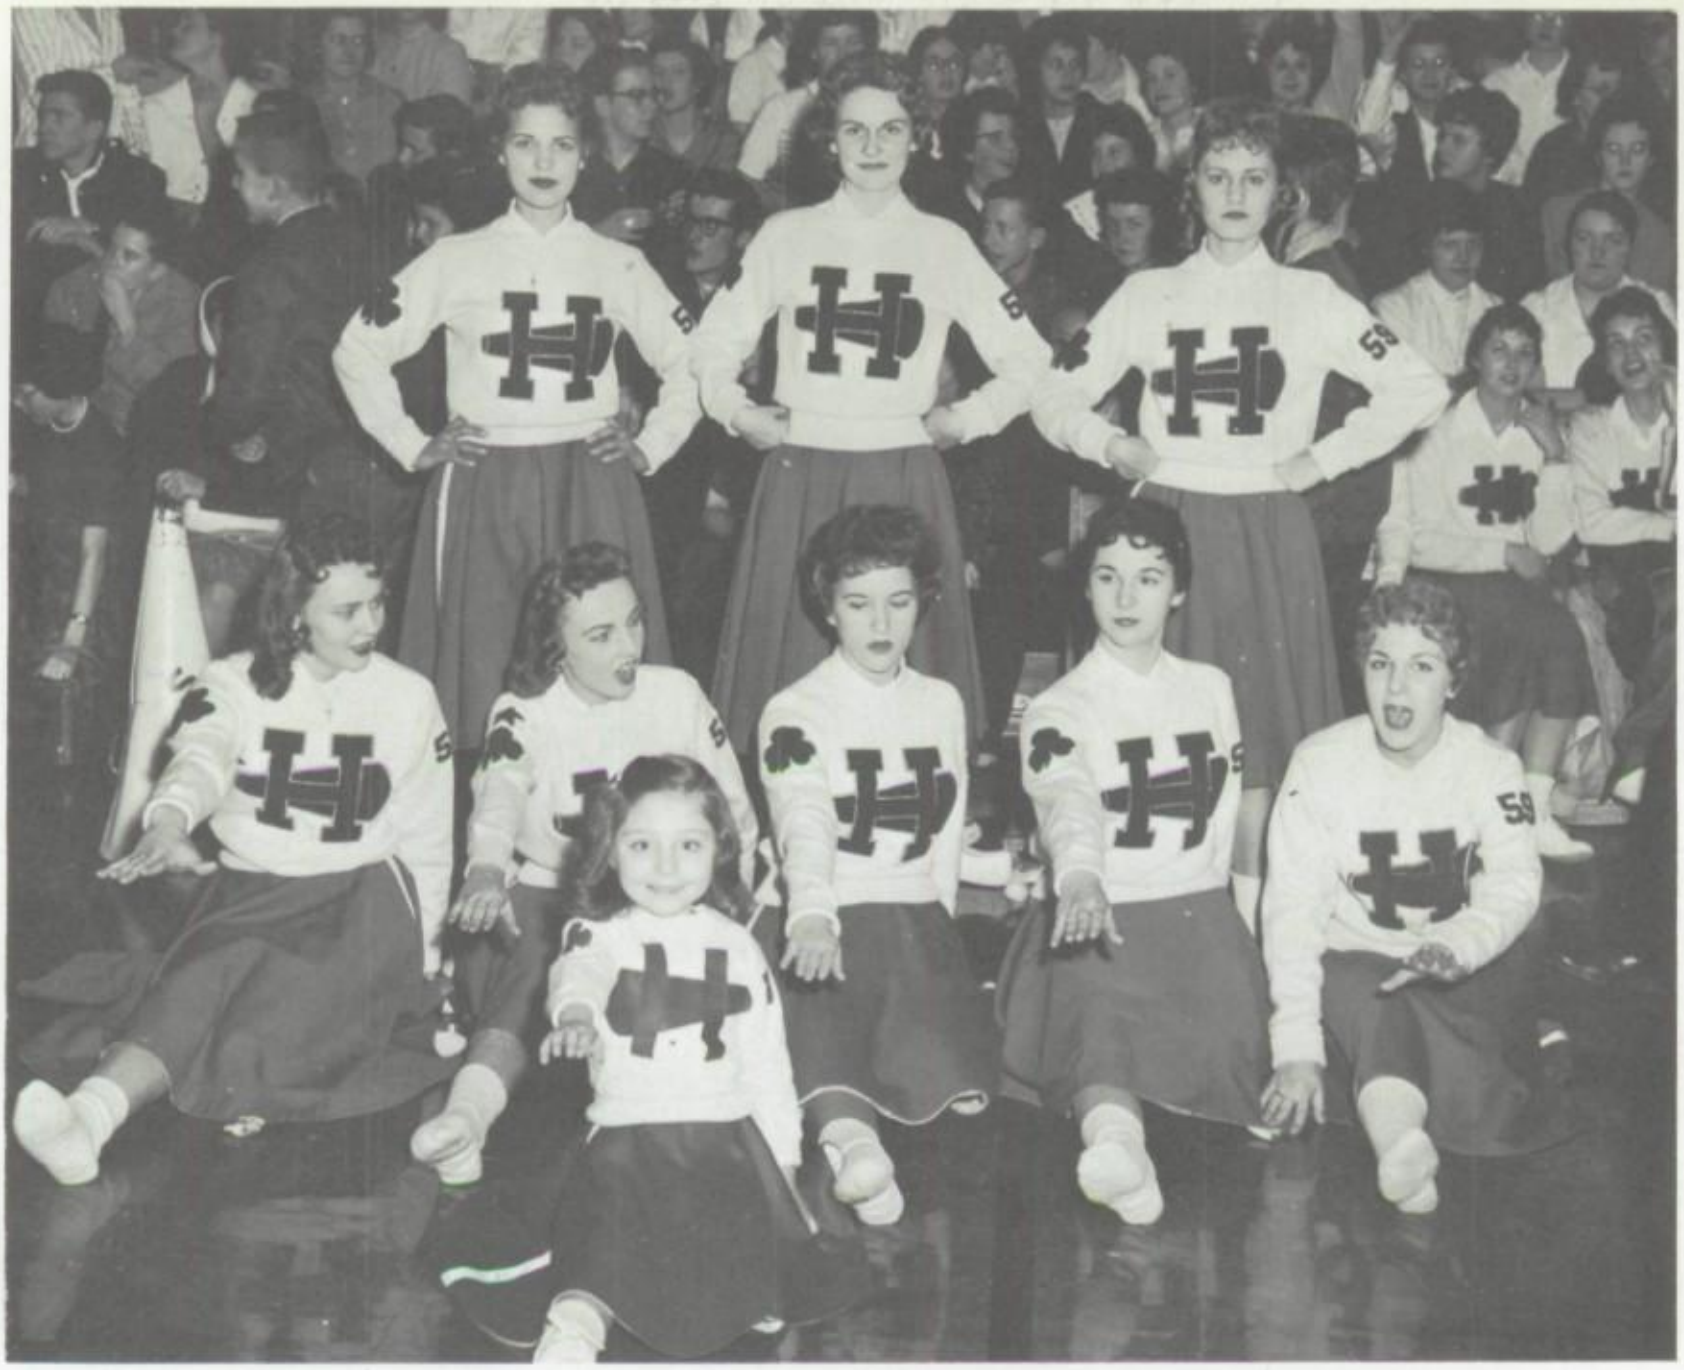
Tom Murphy, vaulting 9' 6", practices for a busy season.

John Cotter takes a leaping start to lead Charles Hartman in the 220 meter run.



Steve Schuesler takes off on a 440 meter lap after receiving the relay baton from Captain Don Boden.

Pitcher Bob McKinney talks over different styles with Bob Montgomery and Casey Lopata.



The cheerleaders and their mascot pose before the crowd: Judith Adams, Nancy McRae, Caroline Sagovac, Barbara Fazekas, Rita Berendson, Janet Rakestraw, Sharon McAlear, and Sue Ritchie, and little Susie Kennedy.

The reserve cheerleaders — Front Row: Gail Ferchek, Margaret Sword, Beth Pickler, Gail Kryeminski, Carol Gira, Lynn Baker, Cloette Renier, and Sandra Sassak show great promise.

Girls' Basketball Team:

Top Row: Sharon Cassidy, Kathy Emery, Karen Tobin, Orpha McDonald, Carol York, Nancy Brown, and Karen Assenmacher.

Row 2: Nancy Courtney, Eileen Tobin, Jane Gallagher, Marilyn Muske, Georgia Ternes, Mary Ann Milewski, Judy Frankowiak, Pam Giltinan, Ilene Ozga, Jean Garrett, and Pat McShosh.

Row 3: Karen Novak, Janet Henry, Rae York, Laura Wilhelme, and Sharon Novak.

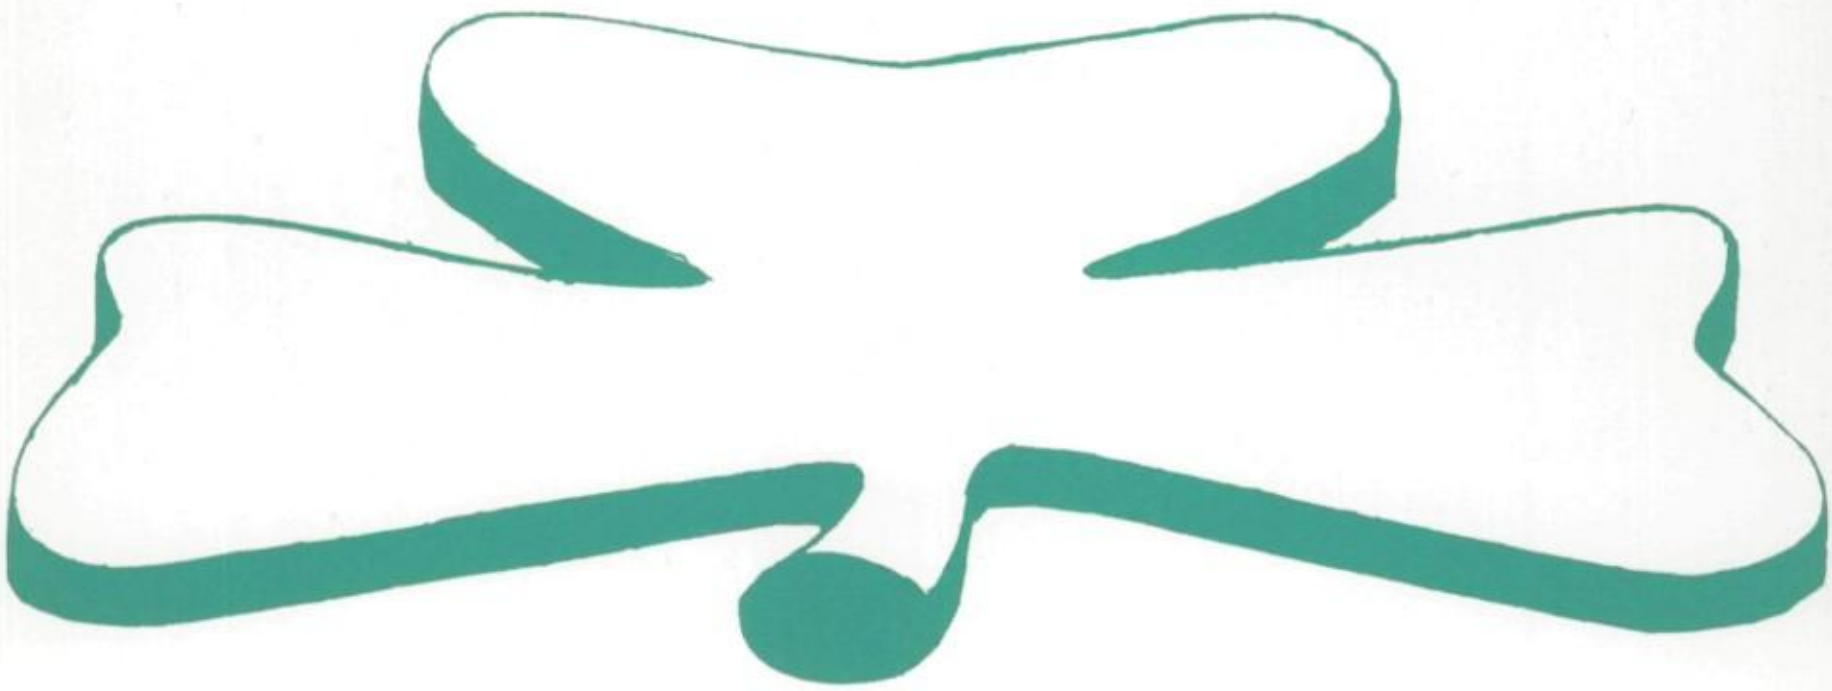
Sharon Novak, Judy Adams, Donna Durham, Janet Henry, Laura Wilhelme, and Karen Novak make up the girls' first string.

The Softball Team:
Top Row: Geraldine Sitarski.
Row 2: Donna Smykowski.
Row 3: Sharon Novak, Fran Alfen, and Karen Novak.
Row 4: Claudette Tardif, Pat McShosh, Judy Adams and Beth Sameck.
Row 5: Father Koenig, Laura Wilhelme, Joan Brady, and Donna Durham.

Karen Novak and Judy Adams show that the girls also have something to brag on.

Shamrock In Advertising

The Shamrock drive for school sponsors has been marked each year by a more successful campaign; each year advertisers recognize more than before that in contributing to Sacred Heart High School they are not only benefiting themselves by worthwhile and productive advertising but they are also contributing in a very definite way toward the formation of men and women who are being trained to meet the challenge of modern living in five areas: moral, mental, physical, cultural, and social. This education is reviewed in the pages of 1959 Shamrock which the generosity of the advertisers has made possible.



SHAMROCK STAFF

Seated: Gail Gallo.

"There's a girl I'd like to know"

"She has so much poise and confidence—I'll bet she works for the telephone company. Those girls are so attractive and have such friendly, pleasant manners."

They're talking about Lucy, who started working for Michigan Bell right out of high school. She was trained by friendly, understanding supervisors and today she's proud of her work; enjoys a fine salary, regular wage increases, and many new friends.

Lucy was delighted from the very first by the clean, pleasant surroundings, by the regularly scheduled mid-morning and midafternoon "breaks" for relaxing in comfortable lounge rooms, and by the opportunities for advancement.

Isn't that kind of job worth going after? Then why not get in touch with us—perhaps there's a telephone job for you. We'll be happy to talk with you about the interesting work at Michigan Bell.

Congratulations, Graduates

That important day when you receive your diploma will soon arrive. And we join with your friends and family in offering our congratulations. As your life is punctuated by the pleasant excitement of graduation day, accept your diploma as a symbol of a job well done. Let it carry you forward as you move on in education or begin your career. Your friends at the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company wish you continued success with the new life that now lies before you.
